

arts learning

Resources for Teaching Artists

- The Artful Teaching & Learning Handbook (PDF) - This publication provides blue prints for a versatile arts education model. Full of tools, processes and examples from its field sites, the handbook offers the practitioner research-based support for building arts based and arts infused learning. Developed by the Perpich Center for Arts Education. <http://www.pcae.k12.mn.us/pdr/artfulteach.html>.
 - The Association of Teaching Artists (ATA) - A non-profit professional organization whose mission is to strengthen and serve Teaching Artists from all disciplines in New York State and beyond. The Association of Teaching Artists strives to create a community of professional Teaching Artists by: empowering the practice of Teaching Artists' as a profession; providing a network for communication and the exchange of resources; shaping the field of Arts in Education; providing advocacy, training, and professional development; publicly recognizing distinguished achievement. <http://www.teachingartists.com/>
 - Chicago Artists Resource (CAR) - Created by artists for artists, this site has been designed to accept new information and articles dynamically so there will be new information appearing every day. It has also been designed to enable artists to contribute content dynamically - through forums, through space, opportunity and job posts, and through the words and images created by artists in the CAR community. <http://www.chicagoartistsresource.org/?q=>
 - Lincoln Center Institute for the Arts in Education - This educational and arts center teachers educators to experientially explore arts with their students. http://www.lcinstitute.org/wps/portal!/ut/p/cxml/04_Sj9SPykssy0xPLMnMz0vM0Y_QjzKLN4g3sdAvyHZUBAAqwx9c
 - The New England Consortium of Artist-Educator Professionals (NECAP) - Dedicated to the support and development of teaching artists. NECAP collaborates with arts agencies from the New England states, other organizations, and individuals to advance the field of the artist-educator; develop the regional network; increase access to quality professional development; and support a community of artist-educators. <http://www.artisteducators.org/>
 - The New York State Alliance for Arts Education (NYSAAE) Toolkit for Teaching Artists - Presents the most up to date compendium of information for both practitioners and advocates of Arts Education/Arts in Education. <http://nysaae.org/toolkit/index.html>
 - NYFA Source - A national database of awards, services, and publications for artists of all disciplines. Artists, arts organizations, and the general public can access information on over 3,400 arts organizations, 2,800 award programs, 3,100 service programs, and 900 publications for individual artists nationwide. <http://www.nyfa.org/>
 - Teaching Artist Journal - The Teaching Artist Journal is a print and online quarterly devoted to the work and thought of teaching artists and all those working at the intersection of the arts and learning. Subscribe and access excerpts of some articles through their website and blog. <http://tajournal.com/>
 - Volunteer Legal Assistance for Artists - This organization maintains a website to answer some basic legal questions artists may have about copyrights, trademarks, resources, and to solicit some larger questions for their members to assist with. <http://www.artsadvocacy.org/>
-