Global Learning Studio Symposium

June 21 - June 25, 2010

The Global Learning Studio is an international professional development opportunity for all classroom teachers, museum educators, arts specialists, curriculum leaders, administrators, and teaching artists from schools and community-based arts organizations. During five days in London, the symposium uses hands-on, arts based instruction to address how we can develop thinking and understanding in arts and non-arts disciplines. Using cultural landmarks such as the Tate Modern, The British Museum, and the Museum of London, participants will explore the nature of disciplinary understanding and effective tools for examining student learning.
